SUMMARY

A small army barracks area covering approximately 120 acres is located in the eastern portion of Stazhiska immediately north of the rail line (Figure 1). The barracks area contains (Figures 2 and 3) three multistory barracks, two administration buildings, five storage buildings, three support buildings, and one motor vehicle maintenance building.

An unidentified installation is located approximately 3 kilometers (km) southwest of the barracks area. The installation is rail served and contains nine buildings.

The barracks area and unidentified installation probably serve the Lvov Training Area located 5 km north. The installations were covered by [REDACTED] KEYHOLE missions between [REDACTED] and showed no apparent change.
